

rebuff, I'll miss the way we'd dash for the dictionary when we found a new word that opened up new ideas, I'll miss your calming influence and I'll miss the stories and wisdom that would remind me how often ideas and fashion are cyclical. For any given condition you'd always been there before, yet despite that I've never met anyone so open-minded and enthusiastic about tomorrow, even if you'd seen it all before yesterday.

I'll miss you.
